J. ALBRIGHT'S
COLUMBIAN SYRUP.

Which has proved itself superior to Swaim's or any of the Panaceas for the cure of the following diseases, viz:

NECROSIS, (or affections of the Bones:) KING'S EVIL, (or scrofula:) CANCEROUS, and inveterate ULCERS; LIVER and BILIOUS COMPLAINTS, RHEUMATIC affections of the head & SYSTEM generally; ULCERS of the MOUTH and THROAT; SYPHILIS, and all diseases arising in the improper use of MERCURY

As a general depurative article, or cleanser of the blood, this remedy possesses invaluable powers; it improves the appetite, and has also the remarkable effect of depriving the skin of that yellow bilious tint, which is so common in billious constitutions.

The Columbian Syrup may be had of Warder Morris, Druggist, No 45 North Third street, William Rovoudt, Druggist, corner of Fourth and Wood streets, Thomas Cave, N E corner of Sixth and Market streets Joseph Reakirt, corner of Third and Callowhill streets, Bergin & Wood, S E corner of Third and Arch Streets, and No 29 North Third street, Zebulon Holmes, No 28 Lombard street, and J. M Pleis, No. 211 North Third street, where numerous highly respectable certificates of cures performed by the above medicine, may be seen.

The following communication, published at New York, by Captain William Baker, of that port, furnishes another proof of the superior efficacy of J. Albright's Columbian Syrup over the Panacea, and other popular remedies. Capt. Baker was cured in July, 1826. It was not until his return from a voyage to Liverpool that his communication was published.

COMMUNICATION

I have been afflicted with an eruption of a scrofulous character for more than three years. The disease first made its appearance in one of my arms, and after some time in the head, which ulcerated, and became very troublesome.

I have taken upwards of fifty bottles of Panaceas and Syrups, without producing any effect. A friend recommended the use of the newly discovered and valuable medicine, called J. Albright's Columbian Syrup. By the Consultation and advice of a physician, the Syrup was prescribed; the use of three bottles of which completely eradicated the disease, and performed a perfect cure.

The publishing of the above may be the means of acquainting the afflicted with a speedy remedy.

WILLIAM BAKER

New York, November 28, 1826

*Thirty bottles of Swaim's Panacea

[COMMUNICATION.]

J. ALBRIGHT'S COLUMBIAN SYRUP.

Having been afflicted with Liver Complaint and Asthma, for upwards of nine years, the greater part of which time I was unable to attend to my business, and during the winter seasons at the commencement of my disease, I was troubled with violent coughing and night sweats, but within the last year they continued with little or no intermission, and my cough was frequently so severe, that I was fearful I would rupture a blood vessel. I was attended by several eminent Physicians, but their endeavours to ease my pain or check my cough proved unavailing. From the loss of appetite, want of sleep, constant pain in my right side, and the long continuation of my disease, I became so weak and emaciated, that I was reduced to a mere skeleton. In this hopeless situation I fortunately heard of J. Albright's Columbian Syrup, which had furnished many proofs of its powerful efficacy in systematic diseases, as the last hope of relief, I concluded to call on the proprietor No 103 Arch Street, and procure a bottle to try its effect. In a very short time it began to manifest its powerful influence upon my system, by affording relief to my pain, producing a good appetite, unbroken rest at night, and completely stopping my Coughs and night sweats, and to my own and the pleasing astonishment of all acquainted with my sufferings, in the course of a few weeks restored me to health.—As I attribute the restoration of my health to the Columbian Syrup, and as thousands of my fellow beings may at this time be labouring under diseases, without a single ray of hope left—I conceive it a duty I owe to the community, that the afflicted may know where to seek a remedy, to give this public attestation to the merits of that invaluable medicine.

THE TEETH

IN 1818 AND IN 1827.

IN 1818, when the advertiser first wrote upon the preservation of the Teeth in this city, the universal complaint in the office of the Dentist, was, "we lose our teeth for want of information, and in 1827 after information "never contradicted" has been before the people near ten years, the complaint is, "we hear so many opinions given about the teeth, that we are afraid to have any thing done, until it is too late, we must lose them, and there is no help for it.

Preventing mortification in the teeth is the most simple business that ever was heard of Nothing is required but to give them room to expand in early life, and to keep them clean. The advertiser has lately conversed with many professors, surgeons and physicians—they all agree that it is highly necessary to give the teeth room to expand in early life, some recommended the extraction of certain sound teeth, others the file, and others said it should be left to the judgement of the Dentist.

The real and true cause for the deplorable condition of the teeth is owing to that cruel or fashionable opinion, viz — "That the silent Dentist is more eminent than him who explores the truth for the benefit of the human race, this is most extraordinary particularly when all operations which the Dentist performs for the preservation of the teeth, are the same continually.

Public information puts the people in mind of their teeth, induces many to apply for timely assistance, points out their immense value, how easily they can be saved, how cruelly they are lamented when lost the fatal consequences which are almost certain to ensue if the teeth are neglected in early life, and above all the danger which always attends consulting with the uninformed Office No. 178 Vine street above 5th st B WILLIAMS,

THE MINERVA PILL

ANTI SIPHILITIC.

A SINGLE BOX of the above infallible remedy for a certain disorder is warranted in nine out of ten cases to effect a quick and radical cure, in whatever stage it may be, if taken according to the direction It neither purges, salivates or sweats, requiring neither confinement to the house, nor any alteration in the usual habits or diet of the patient, who gets well while pursuing his usual occupations, thus defying discovery or even suspicion of the most intimate friend Its operation is so gentle and the cure so certain and quick, that it may truly be said—"to act like magic." It is daily prescribed by respectable Physicians, but the best proof of its value and the truth of its pretensions are to be found in the fact of the demand, from the seaports of the U States, West Indies, Mexico, and South America, which is so great that the requisite supply can scarcely be furnished—and all this, without certificates or puffing of any kind whatever. Those who have been cured by it have recommended it to others, and by this means only has it come in to so great demand. Copious and minute directions for all possible stages of the disease in the English Spanish and French languages accompany each Box To prevent imposition the sale of the Genuine Medicine is confined exclusively to the following persons.

Valuable Schuylkill Coal and Farm Lands For Sale.

THE New York and Schuylkill Coal Company offer for sale the following surplus coal lands, situate in the immediate neighbourhood of the growing village of Pottsville, at the head of the Schuylkill canal, as coal lands in this district accessible by the canal are rarely to be had The following tracts present strong inducements to companies or individuals with capital to carry on the coal business, the high character of the Schuylkill coal is well established, and the demand is increasing in a greater ratio than any anticipated supplies

No. 1 A valuable coal and farm tract containing about 450 acres, well watered, a good proportion of which is cleared, and in fence, the remainder handsomely wooded, with valuable timber, easily brought to market, the Coal Mines on this tract were among the first worked in Schuylkill county and the coal acknowledged to be of the first rate quality On the farm is a large dwelling house and barn, two apple orchards, with other fruit trees, and it is situate within one mile of Pottsville, where the market for all kinds of produce is equal to that of Philadelphia or New York An industrious Farmer would not fail to do well on this property

No 2. This tract adjoins the above, and contains about one hundred and fifty acres, handsomely wooded, situate on the West Branch of the Schuylkill On this tract is an excellent Saw Mill in full operation. The timber on this land, (independent of the coal) if brought to market, would more than pay its cost

No 3 The undivided half of 117 acres, also situate on the West Branch of the Schuylkill, and near the junction of the West Branch, on this tract is a valuable Mill seite, and near it is believed to be a quantity of iron ore

No 4 Also, the undivided half of 100 acres of Land, on which is a house, and sundry improvements it is well timbered, and part of the land is improved, it is within one mile and a half of Pottsville

No 5 A valuable tract of Woodland, containing 125 acres, on which there are undoubted indications of coal, situate on a good road, and within one mile of Pottsville

No. 6. Three hundred and thirteen acres of Woodland situate at the junction of the West, and West Branch of the Schuylkill well timbered, a large quantity of white oak, easily rafted into the canal.

No. 7 One hundred and sixteen acres of land, about twenty of which are cleared, and in fence, the residue valuable timber land the improvements are a log house and barn, and a good Saw Mill, in full operation, also, situate on the West Branch of the river.

No. 8 A number of lots in the village of Pottsville

All the above tracts are in the heart of the Schuylkill coal formation, and it is believed contain extensive and valuable coal veins, most of the above lands if cleared, and properly cultivated, would be first rate farms, and their situation so near the Schuylkill Canal renders them very valuable. SWAIM'S PANACEA.

For the cure of Scrofula, or King's Evil, Ulcers, Rheumatism, Syphilitic, Mercurial & Liver Complaints, and most Diseases arising in debilitated constitutions, or from an impure state of the Blood, &c.

THIS MEDICINE has acquired a very extended and established celebrity both in Hospital and private practice, which its efficacy alone has supported upwards of eight years

As a spring or fall purifier it has given new constitutions to thousands, it is by its operation on the Blood that such surprising cures have been performed on those who were supposed to be labouring under pulmonary affections, &c &c

The effect of this Medicine is such as not to interrupt either business or pleasure, and requires only the common restraints of moderation in diet. It is conveyed by the circulating fluids, and corrects their tendencies in the numerous diseases which originate in vitiated blood, diseased liver, or depraved appetite It is a safe medicine, and removes all those evils which an unsuccessful use of mercury so often occasions. No one, however, is advised to take it, without first fully convincing himself of the truth of what is here stated, and the rectitude of the proprietor's intentions.

This medicine has the singular fortune, a just tribute to its great merit, of being recommended by the most celebrated Practitioners of Medicine in the United States and elsewhere; whereas not one of the spurious mixtures, made in imitation of it, has the least support by the Medical Faculty. This fact offers an argument so plain and conclusive, that it needs only to be mentioned to enforce conviction

From Dr. Wm Price, formerly of the Pennsylvania Hospital, &c

The Vegetable Syrup, called Swaim's Panacea, prepared by Mr Swaim, of Philadelphia, has recently been introduced here by Dr Price, from the United States of America, where it is now extensively used in the treatment of a variety of Chronic Diseases.

Of the efficacy of this preparation Dr Price has had abundant and most satisfactory evidence, during a course of experiments made under his direction, whilst Surgeon of the Pennsylvania Hospital; and since his arrival in England, he has had the good fortune of witnessing many additional instances of its successful administration

The diseases in which this medicine has been particularly useful, are those arising from constitutional causes—as in the various forms of Scrofula, whether affecting the bones, joints, or soft parts; and in cases where a disposition to this disease is manifested by debility only, it operates as a preventive to the local disease by its beneficial effects on the constitution.

It is equally efficacious in mercurial disease and in the secondary forms of Syphilis, and has lately been given with marked success in chronic diseases of the liver, which had resisted the careful exhibition of mercury It has, likewise, very recently been administered with decided advantage by one of the most distinguished Surgeons in London, in a case which had entirely destroyed the right eye of the patient, and a great portion of the side of the face.

WM PRICE, M D

TO THE PUBLIC.

The numerous and multiplying frauds committed on the public, by various mixtures, in imitation of this well known medicine, is a long satisfactory evidence of its superior virtue without any other proof There are now at least twenty imitations of it; but these imitations are all deficient in one important requisite—they are far from possessing the virtues of Swaims Panacea. WM. SWAIM.

Insurances on Lives, &c.

THE PENNSYLVANIA COMPANY for Insurances on Lives and Granting Annuities and Endowments continue to make all kinds of contracts in which the contingencies of life are involved.

One of the principal objects of this company is to afford to the public the means of guarding against the calamities and misfortunes which so often occur by the death of persons on whom others are dependent for support: this may be accomplished by effecting insurances on lives

INSURANCES —Persons who possess but limited incomes, sufficient to support themselves and families during their lives, but have not the prospect of saving a sum adequate to the future support of their families in case of their death, by paying a small sum annually to this company, may insure, for the benefit of their families, a sum sufficient for their comfortable support. Merchants, mechanics, clerks, officers of the army and navy, lawyers, physicians, clergymen, masters of vessels, and all others whose families might be in danger of being reduced to poverty and distress by the death of those on whose daily exertions they are dependent, may avail themselves of the opportunity afforded by this company to provide against such calamities, by insuring their lives

Persons who possess incomes from life estates, may insure the lives of those on whom such incomes are dependent;

Or, a creditor may insure the life of his debtor should he be in danger of sustaining a loss by his death

INSURANCES may be effected for a limited period, as for a journey or voyage, for one, two, three or seven years, or for the whole duration of life

ANNUITIES —Persons advanced in life who possess a sum of money the interest of which is not sufficient for their support, by depositing it with this Company may receive an Annuity much greater than could be received from the interest of the same sum; or should it be preferred, to defer the annuity for a few years, a still larger amount might be received during the remainder of their lives.

ENDOWMENTS —Parents may secure to their children a gross sum, or endowment payable at the age of 21 years; sufficient for small stocks to commence business for their sons, or respectable marriage portions for their daughters, by depositing a small sum at their birth with this company.

Written applications should mention the age, state of health and residence, of the parties on whose lives the contracts are to depend, and are to be directed (post paid) to either of the undersigned.

DR. JOHN I. MAYWEG.

TENDERS his professional services to the citizens of Philadelphia and its vicinity and respectfully begs leave to inform them that he may at all times be consulted at his office, No 52, south side of Callowhill, between Front and Second streets Northern Liberties —Having for upwards of four years, studied with the late Dr Benjamin S. Barton, Professor of Materia Medica, Natural History and Botany in the University of Pennsylvania, and having during that time attended at the Hospital of Pennsylvania, as his student. Dr Mayweg trusts the public will not consider it presumptuous to state, that he has been regularly bred to the medical profession.

He also informs the public that after many years study and research, he has succeeded in discovering the following infallible remedies; extracted from and composed of vegetables for the cure of diseases, the first of which has heretofore baffled all the arts of regular practice, to administer as antidote to its dreadful effects.

Induced by repeated solicitations of many of those who have been relieved, and from motives of humanity, Dr. Mayweg thinks proper to adopt this mode of circulation, in order to give them a greater degree of publicity, and to render them more extensively useful. than they could possibly be, were they to be confined any longer to his own private practice

Anti Epileptic and Nervous Balsam.

THIS Medicine is a safe and efficacious remedy in all affections of the nervous system, particularly in FITS, HISTERICS, ST VITUS'S DANCE, CRAMPS, TETANUS (OR LOCKED JAW,) &c The experience which I have had of the efficacy of this medicine for upwards of eighteen years in my own private practice, enables me to recommend it with confidence to the public, as I scarcely ever knew it to fail where the patient strictly adhered to my directions —Price $2 50 per phial:

As it is customary to give proof of a medicine when offered to the public, to show its superior remedial powers, I have thought proper to add the following communication, copied from the U. S. Gazette, of the 12th inst.

Cheering news to those Afflicted with Epilepsy.

I was for a length of time afflicted with convulsions, which increased to such an alarming degree, that in April 1824, I had from three to ten, and frequently twelve fits a day; during this time an eminent physician attended and prescribed for me, but all his prescriptions were in vain; the malady still increased, and for six days in succession, I had as many as twenty convulsions a day.

Whilst I was in this distressing and apparently hopeless situation, my parents were informed that Doctor John I Mayweg, in Callowhill, between Front and Second streets, prepared a medicine, called ANTI EPILEPTIC and NERVOUS BALSAM; they accordingly procured a phial of it. By adhering strictly to his directions, and using about half an ounce of the Balsam, the disease left me It is now upwards of three years, and I can confidently state, that I have not during all that time felt the least returning symptom of that dreadful disease.

Impelled by a sense of justice to the merits of Dr. Mayweg's Medicine, and from motives of humanity, I think it my duty to make my case publicly known, as it may be the means of informing those suffering under a similar complaint, where to seek for relief

SARAH BALL

No. 5, Sanderson s Court, between St John's and Second streets, above Poplar Lane, Northern Liberties

Remittent, Intermittent or Ague AND FEVER DROPS.

In the course of my practice I have found this medicine to be possessed of invaluable properties in speedily checking and effectually removing the most obstinate cases of REMITTANT, INTERMITTANT FEVERS, and AGUES, where the greater part of the remedies now used in common practice have failed —I conceive it my duty to offer this medicine to the public, as thousands are every season suffering for months under these diseases, which frequently lay the foundation for other disorders fatal to the afflicted.

These drops are also an excellent remedy for the periodical HEADACHE, under which hundreds suffer the most excruciating torments for years, without being able to obtain relief—they are so perfectly innocent that no evil effect may be apprehended from them when used according to the direction—They may be given to tender infants and feeble adults—Price $1 00 per phial

Infallible Vegetable Worm Tea. AND POWDERS.

A safe and effectual remedy for destroying every species of Worms incident to the human body, and may be given with safety to tender infants and women in the most delicate state, if even the disease should not originate from worms, but some other cause, the patient will receive a benefit, as there cannot be a better medicine than the VEGETABLE WORM POWDERS, for opening obstructions, cleansing the stomach & bowels of slime and crudities, destroying the slow inward fevers, and at the same time, acts as a good security against worms & their effects, which frequently produce the most alarming disorders that assail children, by which thousands are annually swept off, which the bills of mortality of our principal cities will plainly demonstrate,—Price 75 cents

A supply of the above Medicines are constantly kept on hand—proper directions accompany each.

THE NEWBERRY LIBRARY
CHICAGO

UNITED STATES GAZETTE.

Published by Hart & Chandler, No 48 Dock street.

PHILADELPHIA:

THURSDAY, NOV 15, 1827

We received yesterday, with our southern mail, Noah's Enquirer of Saturday. The Major expresses a regret that some of the managing men of New York, had not been sent on to take care of Philadelphia—"had this been done," says he, "Mr. Sergeant might have gone back to Panama, instead of Washington city."

To what vile purposes will not trading politicians lend themselves. The intoxication of success, has made this New York politician more communicative, as it regards the means used to produce the desired ends, than we should suppose consistent with the policy of party men, or that degree of seeming respect for the purity of elections, which we would impute even to our political enemies.

It is not certain that some of these managing men were not busy at our last election, in endeavouring to defeat the friends of the administration. But, we will say, that if they were sent on, they came and acted without the knowledge or consent of a great majority of the Jackson party, whom, however we may differ from them in estimating the merits of the presidential candidates, we will never believe guilty of consenting to such a disgraceful interference.

If the New York men manage in such a way, they may manage to cheat the people out of their choice; and they will also manage, either to bring themselves into utter contempt, or destroy those liberties which they so grossly abuse.

In our reports of the proceedings of the Harrisburg Convention last August, we had frequent occasion to notice two of the gentlemen of the Kentucky delegation, Mr. Robertson and Mr. Chinn, as being among the most accomplished speakers in the convention.

Mr. Robertson appeared to us to possess, and to exercise, as great an influence among the members, as any of the numerous distinguished speakers of that highly respectable body. His observations were always fraught with good sense; his calculations were invariably correct, and his deductions satisfactory; and with all these advantages, he mingled that suavita in modo, that spirit of conciliation which "the people and the senate move."

These gentlemen, since their return to their constituents, have published an address, in which they combine such a mass of facts and arguments, as cannot fail to awaken the people of Kentucky, to a sense of the importance of those measures which her delegates so ably and so pleasingly advocated. We have rarely seen a happier abstract of the great arguments in favour of the American System, than is given in the Kentucky address. We cannot believe that our western friends will be so insensible to their own good, as to neglect the sound arguments and wholesome advice contained in the paper to which we refer. We are not speaking now, of any effect which the adoption of the American system by our western brethren, may have upon the presidential question, though these two subjects, we are aware, have, of necessity, become almost identified.

In the Circuit Court of the United States, Reuben Moses and John W. Craig, found guilty of counterfeiting notes of the United States Bank, have been sentenced, the former to an imprisonment of thirteen years, and the latter to an imprisonment of sixteen years.

The Astor case, which has excited so much attention in New York, and which involves so great an amount of property, has at length been decided in favour of the claimant, Mr. Astor.

About 220 houses were destroyed by the late fire at Mobile, and the total loss estimated at from seven hundred to fifteen hundred thousand dollars.

On an acre and a half of ground, a person in Norwich, Conn. has raised one hundred and fifty bushels of shelled corn and five wagon loads of winter squashes.

The daughters of Mr. James Wollastor, of Marlborough, in this state, have suceeded in making excellent sewing silk, from the production of worms of their own raising—from 800 cocoons they make 100 skeins of silk.

Mr. Sanderson, of the Coffee House, invited us last evening, to look at the model of a door, left with him, by an ingenious gentleman of this city. The lower part of it is so constructed, that when the door is closed, a small longitudenal pannel is pressed down by a spring, so as to exclude that unwelcome portion of air, that visits our fire sides through the chinks and crannies of loosely hung doors. We think the invention worthy notice.

Dramatic.—We perceive, by the play bills, that the manager of our theatre has in rehearsal, a new tragedy by Doct. M'Henry, of this city. We believe that it is entitled "The Usurper," and the plot is derived from an highly interesting portion of Irish history. Several literary gentlemen, of acknowledged taste, have expressed an opinion highly favourable to the deserts and success of the piece.

We also perceive, that our managers have announced a short engagement with Mrs. Knight & Mr. Horn. The sweet tones of Mrs. K. are so well known and so much admired, by the Philadelphians, that we need not say a word in her commendation.

Mr. Horn, we believe, holds the first place among the vocalists who have visited this country. Our friends of New York, profess much judgment and taste in these things, and they place the musical performance of Mr. H. higher in the scale of excellence than that of Phillips, Pearman, &c. Nous verrons.

A very numerous and fashionable audience, attended the performance of "Love in a Village," last evening at the theatre. Mrs. Knight and Mr. Horn, were cordially received and highly applauded.

INTERNAL IMPROVEMENT.

Public Meeting.

Agreeably to public notice, a meeting of the citizens of Philadelphia, and its adjacent districts, convened at the Commissioners' Hall, Southwark, on Tuesday evening, the 13th inst. to attend the delivery of an oration, proposed to be delivered by our fellow citizen, Mr. Benjamin Phillips, upon the internal improvement of Pennsylvania, by means of canals and rail-roads.

John Thompson, Esq. was called to the chair, and Mr. Marshall Sprogell, was appointed secretary.

The object of the meeting being briefly stated from the chair, Mr. Phillips proceeded to pronounce his discourse, which he did in an able and eloquent manner. And, thereupon, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the discourse be published, in one or more of the daily papers.

Resolved, That the thanks of this meeting be tendered to Mr Phillips, for the eloquent and energetic manner in which he has advocated the best interests of this state.

Resolved, That the proceedings of this meeting be published.

Resolved, That the meeting adjourn.

JOHN THOMPSON, Chairman.
M. Sprogell, Secretary.

FOR THE UNITED STATES GAZETTE.

MR BUCHANAN, No. II.

Sir.—In a former essay I took permission to protest against the war of epithets and abuse which the southern friends of General Jackson are directing against you, a citizen of our state. So far as your functions are public, you are responsible to the nation, but when they descend, to your "take a walk" conversation, called you an "unknown man," for the purpose of discrediting and charging infamy home upon you, I thought it time that some arm should interfere, lest the construction on your silence should be against you. But, having discharged that duty, I now turn to you.

Before proceeding further, I stop to tender to you the expression of my kindest feelings. I esteem your character, I have, and I will still endeavour to disabuse you. And if I utter an expression which shall disturb the tranquillity of your feelings, that expression will arise from my apprehension of your dangers They surround you on every side. You have opposing men, opposing measures, and opposing opinions of no ordinary importance, to decide upon. And let me also promise, that I am a plain spoken man. To us, of your own state, you are most immediately responsible. We must be allowed to canvass your acts, your motives, and your governing opinions freely.

As to your vote on the woolens bill I wish to offer some reasonable apology for the past, and leave you to reconsider the subject before you are called on to vote again. I am not surprised that your opinions should have been modified by many doubts. The materials before you, on which to found them, were vague. There were discrepancies of opinion, even among manufacturers. In the iron districts, bar-iron was claimed to be a manufactured article, and entitled to be protected. In the manufacturing districts, it was held to be a raw material, and all protection on it was a tax on the manufacturer who consumed it. As to wool, my respect for your discrimination, induces me to pass over it with the following remark. You know that protection, on that material, is a nullity; except through the manufacturer. A duty of ten dollars a pound, will not produce an additional cent to the grower, unless the manufacturer produces the demand. Of hemp, let us also speak, at a future day. We have not succeeded in making the article in this country, without injuring its fibre, till within a few months. Of woollen fabrics, you well know they are every where languishing; and precisely as cotton fabrics were three years ago. The cotton tariff, graduated too, has reduced that class of domestic goods from 30 to 50 per centum; and our southern friends, may, and do now buy at these reduced prices. We are beginning to encounter, successfully, an East India competition, on the northern coast of Africa, the eastern coast of the Mediterranean, in the Black Sea, and even in Madagascar, Pulo Penang, and other parts. That fabric must still have a further protection, above No. 30, of fineness, or it must have years of time to mature its growth; in order to produce a supply of fine goods for printing. Before the year 1824, some of the Massachusetts manufacturers had, under legal associations, invested very large capitals in this branch of business. One establishment, with several hundred thousand dollars of capital, produced but three numbers of goods. Is it strange that these few cases should set over their doors "no admittance;" and say, we want no protection? We want no rivals. But when would such extraordinary cases cover the wide manufacturing field of this country? And what is of the utmost practical importance, their comparisons being made with foreign prices only, they will never produce domestic competition. Still there are men who can talk and write much about these discrepencies, and find in them authority to vote as other purposes may require But 'tis for more capacious minds, like yours, to view such matters on the extended scale which a statesman ought to do; and to govern your acts accordingly. I, therefore, pray you to revise these considerations.

Next, sir, this country swarms with a species of theorists, called political economists and political arithmeticians. They are a kind of political perpetual motionists, who, in their own garrets, can devise rules by which states and empires shall govern themselves forever, without either steam, horse, or water power. These men have rules adopted to all cases, but unfortunately the exceptions, in this country, are often of far more extensive application; so that, in truth, the rule forms the exception. 'Tis with them a doctrinal truth, that commerce being free, international balances will regulate themselves. So that we may continue our dependence entirely on England for her manufactured goods, although she will receive no product from this section of the country; and a very inadequate supply from all parts of it. We send her our money, and public stocks as long as we have any; but are told that indirect trade to the moon, or elsewhere, will balance all, smoothly, by and bye; in the mean time, our local money supplies the place of general money; and two per cent. of the latter, or specie, which is the basis of our paper responsibility, is sent away The residue becomes worthless, and the truth cannot long be concealed. Ruin staring us in the face, whichsoever way we turn. Will these paper holders be satisfied with chapters of political economy? They have a surfeit of paper plausibilities already. The proceedings of Mr. Clvier, against the Bank of England, in '96, is a parallel case.

But, sir, 'tis a solemn truth, which your mind is capable of appreciating, that Great Britain counted largely on the United States, to pay her national debt. Time was, and not long ago, when the world had never conceived such a mass of money to exist, as is now represented in that debt. But great as it is, it being geometrically decreased, while the American commerce pours a steady stream of millions into her coffers, if it do not insure the payment of it, and her national riches too, it must certainly insure our national poverty.

These are general hints, and hints only. The just rights of your constituents imperiously demand your careful attention in estimating the questions of policy which now form the principles of the contest between northen and southern states The extremes of the country have taken ground, and will remain unshaken. But you occupy a border station. You may hear and receive inducements from both sides. We are anxious the enemy should not capture and carry you off: And our hopes are in the result of a dispassionate application of the powers of your mind to these subjects.

SHADES

It was with pleasure I observed, that a writer in one of the morning's papers, has called the attention of his fellow citizens to the importance of availing themselves of the present season for planting trees in front of their dwellings.

A great diversity of opinion is entertained as regards the kind of tree to be preferred. For my part, I should prefer trees of a quick growth, (thick foliage and widely spreading limbs,) that do not attain a great height, are clean and clear of caterpillars, bag-worms, &c. &c. and do not injure the pavement. The only kind that I know of, that answers this description, is the Paper Mulberry, many beautiful specimens of which, may be seen in our vicinity. The following are a few of those which I can at this time point out, viz: In several of the streets in the vicinity of, and west of the navy yard; in south Second street, below Catharine, and one door north of the Old Ebenezer Church; several in south Fifth, west side, between South and Shippen, in Southwark. In the Northern Liberties, several in St. John's street, north of and near Poplar Lane; one in Cable Lane, east side, near Vine street.

North Carolina.—The friends of the Administration have broken ground in North Carolina. A meeting was held at the Court House in Elizabeth City on Saturday last, to devise means and adopt resolutions to promote the election of John Quincy Adams, a tried, faithful servant and civilian.

A letter from Petersburgh, Virginia, states that Niblo's large hotel in that town, was destroyed by fire early on the morning of the 11th inst. The Post Office was kept in the building. No mention is made whether the contents of the mails were saved

The fire broke out between 12 and 1 o'clock, At the time the letter from which we derive our information, was written, every thing was in confusion.—Gazette.

INDIA.—Late advices from India inform us, that a severe battle has been fought in Upper Indus, between a numerous body of the Afghan tribes, and the troops of Rajah Runjit Sinh.—The Afghan army consisted, it is said, of 90,000 infantry and 10,000 horse, whilst that of Runjit's amounted to only between 15,000 and 20,000 men. The armies met on the banks of the Indus, near to the village of Seydeo, when the attack was commenced by the Afghans; but the greater part of their host being ill armed and less organized, made no impression on the Sikhs, who put their enemies to the route. In the flight, great numbers were sabred by Runjit's cavalry, and a body that had taken shelter in the village of Seydeo, was surrounded and entirely destroyed. The Afghans lost eight pieces of artillery, and about 100 swivels, and their camp was plundered by the victors.

Snelson, who robbed the Bank of Virginia, assumed the name of Maxwell, on his arrival in Canada. He sailed from Quebec in the Mary, Cumming, for Liverpool. We learn from the Montreal Gazette, that during his stay in that place, he exchanged eighteen hundred dollars of the bills at the counting house of Messrs. Horatio Gates & Co. On his passage in the Chambly to Quebec, he made repeated enquiries concerning the value of American bills, the means of conveyance to the West Indies, and other questions which left no doubt of his being a guilty person. The notice of the robbery had not then arrived in Canada.

We are happy to have it in our power to state for the information of our city readers, that a satisfactory adjustment of the claim of Chastain Clark, for the amount of the judgment of the Supreme Court against this Corporation has been made, upon the terms of the amendatory law on that subject, all the parties concerned having agreed to receive stock of the Corporation, bearing an interest of five per cent. per annum, irredeemable for ten years, for the amount of their several shares of the claim.—*Nat. The Senate.—The regular republican candidates have succeded in every district. Of the nine senators elected, eight are for Jackson Of the ninth, we have not sufficient information to speak with certainty. The majorities in the several districts are as follows: 1st, over 3000; 2nd, about 3000, 3rd, about 2300; 4th, very large, but not ascertained; 5th, not less than 2000; 6th, no opposition; 7th, about 5500; 8th, no organized opposition-

From the Wilkesbarre Democrat

The Democratic meeting, held at the Court House on Monday evening last, gave ample evidence of the strength of the Administration party in this county. We believe there attended this meeting, prominent men from every township, in the County, The meeting was unusually large, and probably would have been larger, had it been held later in the week. The cause of the Administration is certainly gaining strength in this county and throughout the state.

Messrs. Denison and Hollenback and Jabez Hyde, Jr. were appointed Delegates to represent this district—and Doct. A. B. Wilson, to represent the senatorial district, in the 4th of January Convention

We learn by way of Havana, that Com. Porter has sailed for Gadiz Bay, with the frigate Libertad, and the brig Guerrere, (both well manned,) with a view of intercepting the frigate Perla, which sailed from Havana on the 13th ult with $750,000 in gold. The line of battle ship ——, is expected in Havana in all December, with 400 mariners for the garrison. On the 1st of this month, the Spanish squadron at Havana, was busily engaged in bending their sails, &c. and appeared to be in every respect in excellent order.—Gazette.

Raleigh, (N.C.) Nov, 9

We are informed that a singular trial took place at the late term of of the Superior Court of Burke county.

A man who is estimatad to be worth two hundred thousand dollars, was indicted for the crime of forgery, and so conclusive was the evidence that the Jury convicted him. What is still more remarkable, the amount which this individual who has thus made shipwreck of his reputation, expected to gain, was only thirty dollars. He has appealed to the Supreme Court.

WEST OF THE ROCKY MOUNTAINS.

We have been politely favoured by General Clark, Superintendant of Indian Affairs, with the perusal of a letter, written by Jedediah S. Smith, who has been for several years engaged in hunting and trapping in the upper Missouri, and who has visited that extensive barren country on the West, not heretofore explored. From this letter, written in a plain style, we extract the following, which, we trust will be found interresting to our readers.—Missouri Republican.

My situation has enabled me to collect information respecting a country which has been, measurably, veiled in obscurity, and unknown to the citizens of the United States, I allude to the country southwest of the great salt lake, and West of the Rocky Mountains.

About the 22d of August, 1826, I left the Great Salt Lake, accompanied with a party of fifteen men, for the purpose of exploring the country to the South West, which was then entirely unknown to me, and of which I could obtain no satisfactory infomation, from the Indians who inhabit the country on its North East borders. My general course on leaving the Lake, was S. W. and W. passing the Little Uta Lake, and ascending Ashley's River, which empties into it, where we found a nation of Indians, calling themselves Sumpatch, who were friendly disposed towards us. After leaving the Little Uta Lake, I found no further sign of Buffalo—there were, however, a few of the Antelope and Mountain Sheep, and an abundance of Black tailed Hares. Leaveing Ashleys river, I passed overe a range of mountains, S. E. and N. W., and struck a river, running S. W., which I named Adams River in compliment to our President. The water of this river is of a muddy cast, and somewhat brackish. The country is mountainous to the East, and on the West are detached rocky hills and sandy plains. Passing down this river some distance, I fell in with a nation of Indians, calling themselves Pa Utches. These Indians, as well as the Sumpatch, wear robes made of rabit skins; they raise corn and pumpkins, on which they principally subsist—except a few hares, very little game of any description is to be found. About ten days march further down, the river turns to the S. E. where, on the S. W. of it there is a remarkable cave, the enterance to which is about ten or fifteen feet high, and five or six feet in width: after decending about fifteen feet, it opens into a large and spacious room, with the roof, walls, and floor, of solid rock salt, (a piece of which I send you, with some other articles which will be hereafter described) I followed Adams river two days travel further, where it empties into the Seeds keeder, which I crossed and went a South course down it, through a barren rocky, and mountainous country. In this river are many shoals and rapids. Further down, a valley opens, from five to fifteen miles in width. The land on the river banks is fertile and timbered. I here found another tribe of Indians, who call themselves Ammuchiebes. They cultivate the soil and raise corn, beens, pumpkins and melons in abundance, and also a little wheat and cotton. I was now nearly destitute of horses, and had learned what it was to do without food; I therefore concluded to remain here fifteen days, to recruit my men; and in the mean time, succeeded in changeing my few remaining horses, and was enabled to purchase others, from a party of runaway Indians, who had stolen them from the Spaniards. I here obtained some information respecting the Spanish country, obtained two guides, recrossed the Seeds Keeder and travelled a west course fifteen days over, a country of complete barrens, and frequently travelling from morning until night without water. Crossed a salt plain eight miles wide and twenty long. On the surface of the ground is a crust of white salt underneath is a layer of yellow sand, and beneath the sand a few inches the salt again appears. The river Seeds Keeder, I have since learned, empties itself into the Gulf of California, about 80 miles from the Amuchiebes, and is there called the Collerado.

On my arrival in the province of Upper California, I was eyed with suspicion, and was compelled to appear in the presence of the Governer, residing at St. Diego, from whence, by the assistance of some American gentlmen, (and particularly Capt. W. H. Cunningham, of the ship Courier, from Boston,) I was enabled to obtain permission to return with my men, by the route I had come. I also obtained permission to purchase such supplies as I stood in need of. As the Governer would not permit me to travel up the sea coast towards Bodago, I proceeded eastward of the Spanish settlement. I then turned my course N. W. keeping from 150 to 200 miles from the sea coast. I travelled three hundred miles in this direction, through a country somewhat fertile, and inhabited by a great many Indians, mostly naked, and destitute of fire arms, and who subsist upon fish, roots, acorns and grapes. These Indians, unlike in this respect, to any others that I have seen, cut their hair to the length of three inches.

I afterwards arrived at a river, which I named (after a tribe of Indians residing on its banks) Wim-mel-che. I found here a few beaver and elk, deer and antilopes in abunbance. I made a small hunt, and then attempted, with my party to cross Mount Joseph, and join my partners at the Great Salt Lake In this, however, I was disappointed I found the snow so deep on the mountain, that my horses could not travel. Five of my horses having already perished for want of food, I was compelled to return to the valley. Here leaving my party, I set out on the 20th may accompanied by two men, and taking with us seven horses and two mules, which were ladened with hay, and provisons for ourselves and in eight days we succeeded in crossing Mount Joseph, with the loss of only two horses and one mule The snow on the top of this mountain was from four to eight feet deep, but so solid that our horses only sunk into it from six to twelve inches.

After travelling twenty days from the east side of Mount Joseph, I struck the S. W. corner of the great Salt Lake.—The country between the mountain and this lake is completely barren, and entirely destitute of game. We frequently travelled two days without water, over sandy deserts, where no sign of vegetation was to be seen. In some of the rocky hills we found water, and occasionally small bands of Indians, who appeared the most miserable of the human race. They were entirely naked, & subsisted upon grass seeds, grass hoppers, &c. On arriving at the Great Salt Lake, we had but one horse and one mule remaining, & they so poor that they could scarcely carry the little camp equippage we had with us. The balance of the hores we were compelled to eat as they give out.

GLEANINGS—No. 14

Selected for this Gazette.

Simplicity of Manners.—If we look into the manners of the most remote ages of the world, we discover human nature in her simplicity—and the more we come down to our own times, may observe her hiding herself in artifices and refinements, polished insensibly out of her original plainness, and at length entirely lost under form and ceremony, and (what we call) good breeding. Read the accounts of men and women as they are given us by the most ancient writers, both sacred and profane, and you would think you were reading the history of another species.—Addison.

Modesty.—A just and reasonable modesty, does not only recommend eloquence, but sets off every great talent which a man can be possessed of. It heightens all the virtues which it accompanies; like the shades in painting, it raises and rounds every figure, and makes the colours more beautiful, though not so glaring as they would be without it. It is not only an ornament, but a guard to virtue. It is a quick and delicate feeling in the soul, which makes her shrink from every thing that has danger in it.—Spectator.

Beware of Flattery.

Trust not a man—be is by nature false,
Dissembling, subtle, cruel and uncontant;
When a man talks of love, with caution trust him—
But if he swears, he'll certainly deceive thee.
Addison.

Devotion—Opens the mind to great conceptions, and fills it with more sublime ideas, than any that are to be met with in the most exalted science, and at the same time warms and agitates the soul more than sensual pleasures.—Addison.

Flattery and Praise.—Nothing is more offensive than flattery which is direct and pointed. Praise is considered as happy and elegant, in proportion to the slightness of the associations by which it is conveyed.—Stewart.

Woman.—As the vine which has long twisted its graceful foliage around the oak, and been lifted by it, into sunshine, will, when the hardy plant is rifted by the thunderbolt, cling round it with its caressing tendrils, and bind up its shattered boughs; so it is beautifully ordered by Providence, that woman, who is the mere dependant and ornament of man in his happier hours, should be his stay and solace when smitten with sudden calamity, winding herself into the rugged recesses of his nature, tenderly supporting the drooping head, and binding up the broken heart.—Sketch Book.

Sorrows.—What are the sorrows of the young? Their growing minds soon close above the wound; their elastic spirits soon rise beneath the pressure; their green and ductile affections soon twine around new objects. But the sorrows of the poor, who have no outward appliances to soothe; the sorrows of the aged, with whom life at best is but as a wintry day, & who can look for no after growth of joy; the sorrows of a widow, aged, solitary, destitute, mourning over an only son, the last solace of her years; these are the sorrows, which make us feel the impotency of consolation.—Ibid.

Health and Virtue in the Country.

God made the country, and man made the town;
What wonder then, that health and virtue, gifts
That can alone make sweet the bitter draught
That life holds out to all, should most abound
And least be threatened, in the fields and groves?

The Pulpit.

There stands the messenger of truth—there stands
The legate of the skies! His theme divine,
His office sacred—his credentials clear.
By him the violated law speaks out
Its thunders; and by him in strains as sweet
As angels use, the gospel whispers peace.
Cowper.

Religion

I venerate the man, whose heart is warm,
Whose hands are pure—whose doctrine and whose life,
Coincident, exhibit lucid proof,
That he is honest in the sacred cause—
To such I render more than mere respect,
Whose actions say, that they respect themselves.
Ibid.

Liberty.

Oh liberty! thou goddess heavenly bright,
Profuse of bliss, and pregnant with delight!
Eternal pleasures in thy presence reign,
And smiling plenty leads thy wanton train;
Eas'd of her load, subjection grows more light,
And poverty looks cheerful in thy sight,
Thou mak'st the gloomy face of nature gay;
Giv'st beauty to the sun, and pleasure to the day.
Addison.

Food.—Nature delights in the most plain and simple diet. Every animal but man keeps to one dish. Herbs are the food of this species—fish of that, and flesh of a third. Man falls upon every thing that comes in his way, not the smallest fruit, or excressence of the earth, scarce a berry or a mushroom, can escape him. As to his meats, they are so disguised by cooking, that neither the eye nor the taste can discern the quality, compound, or name of many fashionable dishes, supplied by professed restorateurs.

The Surprise.

Chloris, I swear, by all I ever swore,
That from this hour, I shall not love thee more;
What! love no more? Oh! why this alter'd vow?
Because I cannot love thee more—than now.
Moore

A Reflection at Sea.

See how, beneath the moonbeam's smile,
Yon little billow heaves its breast,
And foams and sparkles for a while,
And murmuring, then subsides to rest.

Thus man, the sport of bliss and care,
Rises on Time's eventful sea;
And, having swell'd a moment there,
Thus melts into eternity!
Ibid.

Communicated for the United States Gazette

Birds Nests.—The quantity of this article expected from Java, for the China and Japan markets, is immense—the government have annual sales of it; and there is much belonging to individuals, who rent farms from the government, and from the Sultan of Madeira.

The white go to China, 1st sort $35 per caddy; 2d 30 do. 3d 25 do. 4th 20 do. 5th 15 do. That which is black, and full of feathers, is little esteemed.

Much of this article is found at Solos, north of Borneo, and the Arrow Isles, Ambyna, Flores, Manado, Fernate, Mandle, &c.

Articles of government monopoly at Batavia.—Copper, imported from Japan; Camphor. Formerly, but now free, Banca tin, mace, cloves, nutmegs.

Native camphor is materially different from that of China and Japan, and is collected from Barrus and Sinkula, Soolo and Borneo. It is generally sent to the Chinese and Japan markets—the prices vary as to quality, which are 3 head, belly, foot.

The Wax Tree, as of late attracted the attention of the agriculturists of Java, and it is confidently asserted, from the experience of many, that the importation of wax candles will be superceded entirely, as at one half the prise of that article; generally, the profits are ascertained to be greater than in any other article produced in Java, and the appearance of the article, when manufactured, is not inferior to the imported. The candle is said to give as good a light, and to burn longer. The wax from Borneo, and all the eastern isles, is greatly preferred by the Javanese, in all the manufactories of Batel, in painting cottons, and in copper manufactories, price $60 per pecul.

Japan or Red Wood.—Considerable quantities are found in the forests of Java—that from Surabara and Scava, is preferred, price for Java 1½f. per pecul.

The Wonder of the Age.
THE PRODIGES OF NATURE.

THE Exhibition of the two learned Dogs, which were so numerously visited at the Palace Royal in Paris, and at the Royal Circus in London, to overflowing houses, and with great applause, and for two months past at the New York Museum, where about twelve thousand persons saw them and were highly gratified They are now to be seen at the Arcade for two weeks longer. No 73, West Avenue, second story And in order to give persons who cannot attend in the evening they may have an opportunity of witnessing them in the morning They will be exhibited in the morning from ten o'clock until twelve, and from three o'clock in the afternoon till ten o'clock at night The far famed performance of these truly astonishing dogs whose superior endowments have been the wonder and delight of numerous and distinguished parties, being a perfect nonpareil of their kind, as for instinct the Dog Toby seems to understand and will answer questions in Geography, Astronomy and Arithmetic, &c. &c. He will tell the hour of the day accurately by any watch, tell the value and sums of any silver coin shown to him, and the dog shall be blind folded, any person may draw a card from the pack, shuffled and spread with the other cards upon the floor face downwards, and the dog will select the card thus drawn, or even thought of, &c &c.

Minetto will leap through hoops, balloons and walk on his front feet while his hind feet are elevated But to describe the various acquirements of these matchless animals, their unparrelled sagacity, and pleasing performance require more than language can express, they must be seen to be duly appreciated!

In consequence of the mistake in the Saturday Evening Post, representing that the price of admission would be reduced to 12½ cents is altogether wrong, it remains as usual 25 cents Children under ten years of age, half price
